About Us

As business consultants in Insurance Agency and IT Development, we believe that our role is to help anyone to achieve their business goals. With all the capabilities we have, we can serve clients with high satisfaction. The success of the clients we have worked with is satisfaction for us. And for that, we will continue striving to develop to provide the best.

History of Jarss.id

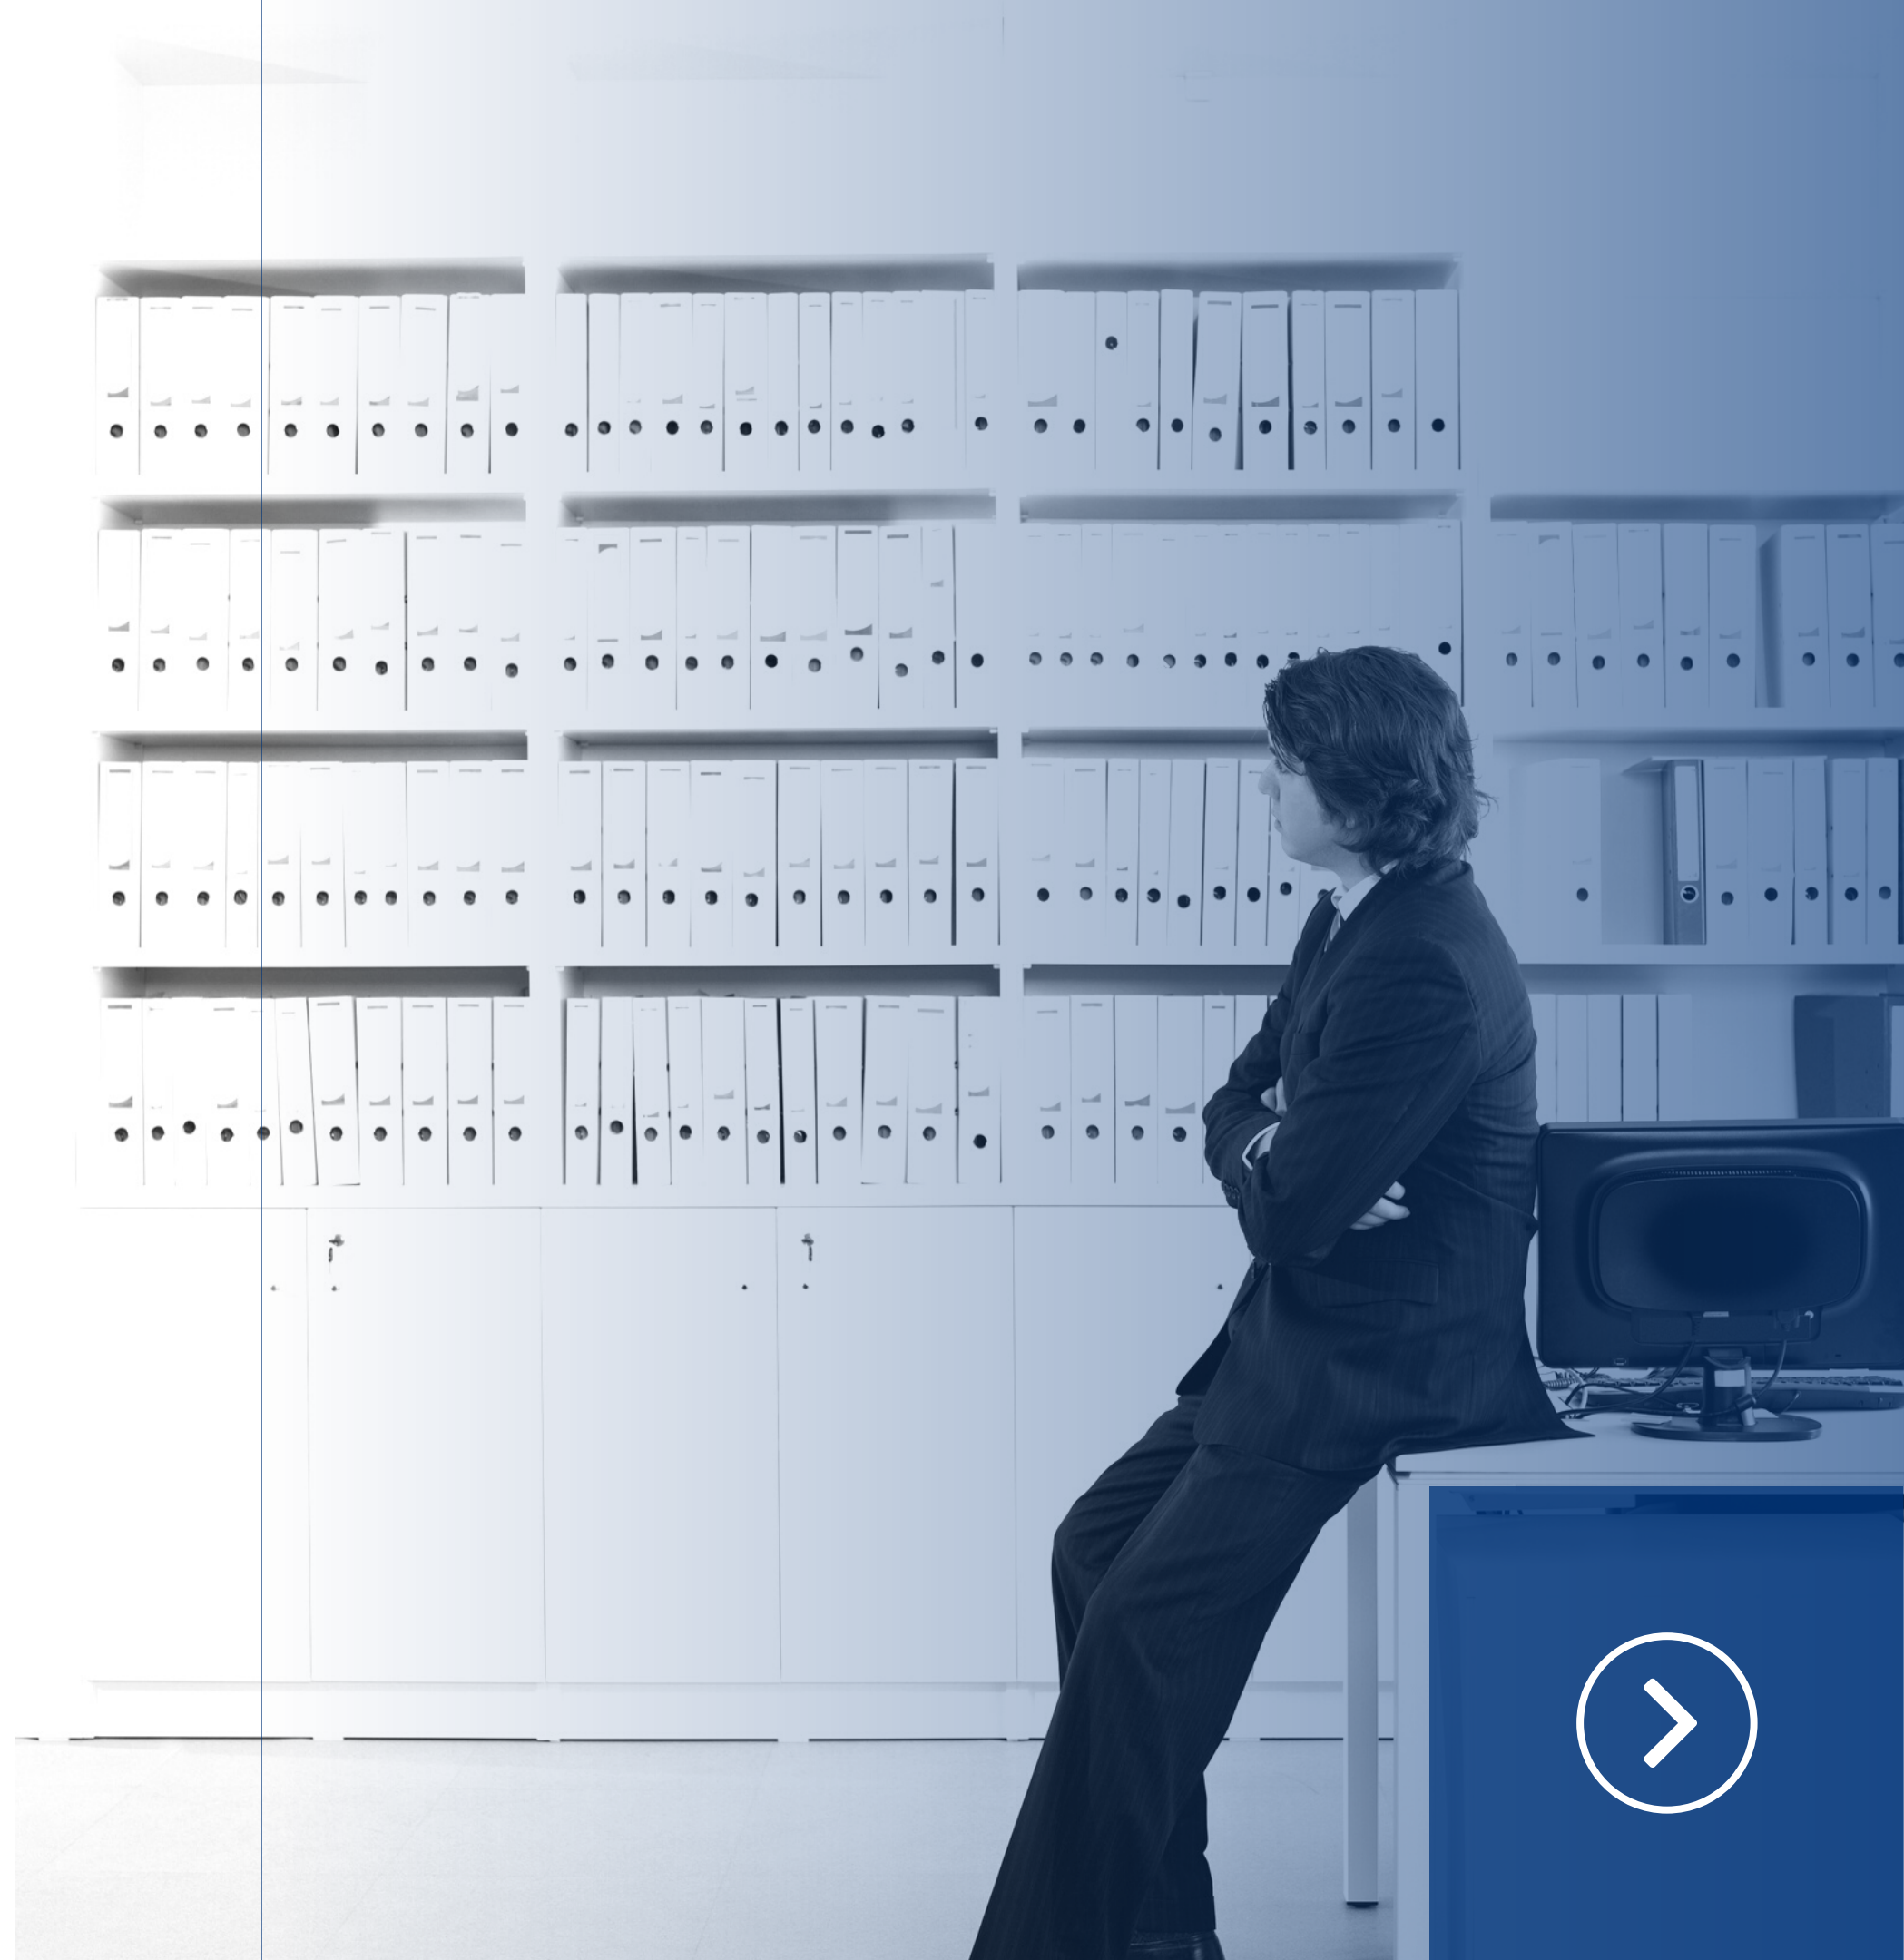

Our consulting company started as a small business that was started by just five people. Learning from clients who have worked with other companies, as well as some of the failures we faced when starting other types of businesses, we are determined to assist in developing the business by minimizing risk.
